The first thing is careful preparation. I believe a Junior superintendents obligation to her society is as great as a pastor s to his people. She is called of God to fit and shape the little children for his service. The greatest of all opportunities are hers; for she has the pure, unsoiled lives, which do not need reforming, but forming. I once knew a Junior superintendent who put off the planning of her Junior meeting until Saturday evening (the Junior prayer meeting was Sunday evening), and a few times when she was quite busy it was left until Sunday morning, and once or twice she did not find time until just a few minutes before she started to the meeting. To such a one I would say, But know thou that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. A kindergarten teacher who is receiving wages for her work plans out every detail days ahead. Each little song and lesson and the materials for the illustrations are planned before each day s work begins. Can we as Junior superintendents afford to be careless in the preparation of our work when our pay is infinitely more than dollars and cents? Immortal souls are intrusted to our care; what are we doing to fit them for the Master s service through time and eternity?
